and Jeff Peak

"the future of video capture is "tapeless" and we all need to learn how it works and doesn't work" RICK RAGLOW

WHAT IS P2 WORKFLOW YOU ASK??

....well saddle up cause I'm going to learn right along with you. I know I'm the President but you don't expect me to know everything do you?? Insert political joke here....Don't look at me, I'm a Republicrat!!

I'm in a hurry to get this newsletter out to everyone cause I'm excited to tell you about our first event for 2008....P2 WORKFLOW. I know you've heard about it so why don't you learn about it?? That's the boat I'm in. I've known about 'P2 technology, tapeless acquisition formats, HDV, DVR, HBO, SOL, you name it, since it graced the stage at NAB. But I haven't had the fortune to use it yet. I am looking to learn a lot from this event and then decide for myself if P2 technology is something I'd like to pursue in the future. If you are currently using it then what a great opportunity for you to swap stories and lessons learned and maybe even learn something new about the technology you didn't know before.

At the bottom of this page follow a link to get all the information on P2 you can handle. Be thinking about questions and concerns you may have and attend the meeting armed with knowledge and wanting answers to your questions. Chances are pretty good that Rick and Jeff have already come across most scenarios whether that's been during acquiring footage, editing, and/or outputting. I personally am curious about the editing of the P2 media. Which NLE's handle it the best, etc....and getting the real world knowledge from guys in the field doing it everyday. You can't read about that stuff and get the knowledge or satisfaction that you are looking for.

Let's learn together at the P2 Workflow event. Go ahead and jot it on your calendar right now while you're thinking about it. You'll be glad you did.
