NEXT Chapter EVENT

April 2nd

6:00pm - 8:30pm

March 12th, P2 Workflow event with Rick Raglow, Members & Guests

MCA-I IS GOING GREEN...AT LEAST FOR TWO WEEKS

....with my Scotch-Irish-German heritage I find it only fitting with St. Patty's Day upon us to celebrate with a green newsletter. I created it on a recycled computer...oh, and made the actual newsletter green.

It's St Patty's Day so I'm going to get this newsletter to the point. P2, LA, Irish, PVS, Woods, Premier Studios, Outdoors, Kipp, The Gaf, Dallas, Ghosts, Coolness, and Choo-Choo. These topics cover everything that has gone on the past two weeks and what will be taking place the following two..and a little beyond.

Real quick I'd like to mention the leadership summit that took place in Dallas two weekends ago. 40 leaders from chapters all across the country converged on Dallas for a weekend and took care of some business. Topics included Pro Tracks, Branding, The Golden Reels, Website, Connect & E-News, Budget, Membership, Recognition, and many other items as well. It's amazing what you can accomplish in 8 hours when you stay on task. Though it wasn't all work I assure you. If you haven't been to Dallas lately I highly recommend you go. I know some people down there that will show you a good time.

Our P2 event on March 12th went great. The food was delicious and the conversation went 30 minutes over. I think it's safe to assume we'll all be heading down the tapeless path soon. I for one am more knowledgeable about the transition than I was before. Rick Raglow put on a very relevant and meaningful presentation. I'd like to give another thanks to Pat Barber and the group at PVS for sponsoring and hosting our event.

Be sure to check out our next event taking place on April 2nd when Kipp Woods comes to town to discuss his show.

This is some very authentic Fish and Chips and Pea mash....yuk The F&C were great though. This blurry picture was taken in a little pub in the middle of England. If you look closely, you'll notice the fish is the shape of an actual whole fish.

What Is Missouri Outdoors?

Missouri Outdoors brings the spirit and exuberance of our outdoor heritage to life.

Kipp Woods is your host for 30 minutes of discovery into the little known, and well known outdoor treasures of Missouri.

From lush Ozark mountains, to crystal clear streams, to lonely flowering prairies, and mysterious cyprus swamps, few other states offer the outdoor diversity of Missouri. Experience adventures in hunting and hiking, fishing and wildlife and the people who enjoy it. Missouri is a uniquely rich state and Missouri Outdoors brings it to you. It's an adventure into nature for the entire family.

History

"Missouri Outdoors" first hit the "air" in 1986 produced locally for the Jefferson City/Columbia market. Since 1989, the show has been distributed statewide.

The show was originally hosted from a studio setting. Today, each program is shot on-location throughout the state. It's been that way since 1991.

The magazine style show features 3 to 4 individual stories focusing on conservation and outdoor related topics, activities and people of Missouri.

The shows also include short segments featuring wildlife, nature notes, outdoor cooking, how-to tips, agent tales, website questions and wildlife sounds.

Also included in the series is "Just Kiddin' Around," a show produced especially for kids. It's hosted by Sarah Tannehill. All shows are closed-captioned for the hearing impaired.

Awards

"Missouri Outdoors", "Just Kiddin' Around" and the entire crew associated with the shows have been awarded over 30 Regional Emmys since 1994 when "Missouri Outdoors" received its first "show" nomination. During this time it has received over 60 nominations.
