After Hours and Media Festival Showcase
5:00 p.m. - 7:00 p.m.

Kick back, relax, watch and discuss as we present last years winners of the annual Golden Reels competition. Shorts, PSA's, animation, marketing, training, etc.. See what kind of competition you are up against and submit your work for this years festival in Los Angelas.

The Granfalloon on the Plaza has generously opened up a private room for our screening at no charge to the group. If you have been planning on attending an After Hours I encourage you to take advantage of this one. We will all learn a lot and I can guarantee a really fun time. What a great opportunity to enjoy the spring weather and network with your peers. I hope you can make it. Please add this event to your calendar right now so you won't forget. I know I tend to forget and I schedule these things.

Well, another short newsletter this week everyone. Have a great memorial day weekend, be safe, and take advantage of the extra time off if you are fortunate enough to have it. Please consider unwinding at the Granfalloon with your fellow media professionals on Tuesday.
